OLD SOUTH BUSINESS ASSOCIATION

The Old South Business Association is a group of businesses based in the heart of London, referred to as Old South. It is comprised of organizations involved in service, retail and hospitality. Through our monthly breakfast meetings, the OSBA fosters networking and a spirit of cooperation among its membership. Our group's goal is to promote commerce among its members and with other firms in the greater community. Through our directory of services, we connect members with members and members with customers. The OSBA works to promote Old South as a prime location to live, work, shop and dine.

This directory is created annually by the Old South Business Association, an organization of independent business owners who work, dine and shop in Old South. Through the sponsorship of local events, the OSBA promotes the unique experience that is Old South London.
